The two documents relevant to CVS DEX are:

The DEX/UCS Usage Guidelines - <http://www.cvssuppliers.com/sites/suppliers.sub.cvsc.addventures.com/files/DEX%20Usage%20Guidelines.pdf>

CVS requires a DEX Certification Test to validate vendor DEX settings setup and software/hardware compatibility. The DEX test can potentially be performed at a local CVS store convenient to the vendor that is aligned to and serviced by the vendor in the CVS DSD Tool.

The CVS DEX test will typically consist of the following actions in production:

- Vendor Driver / Testing Representative transmits test invoice
- CVS Store Personnel simulates receiving the delivery and confirm delivery qty's
- Successful completion/closure of the invoice in the CVS system and DEX POD print out

It is recommended that for the DEX test the vendor please submit:

- At least 5 valid UPCs that are accepted by CVS during DSD delivery
 - if supported using various units of measure
- If applicable/used by the vendor, items with allowance codes (be sure allowance codes validate)

While not required for DEX certification, the vendor may also want to perform a test credit / return transaction via DEX as well. Typically this portion of the test would essentially have a credit / return performed for the product simulated in delivery DEX transaction basically reversing the delivery.

The DEX test can be performed with a driver and an actual delivery or strictly with a vendor testing representative, but depending on the vendor's system a separate invoice may need to be prepared for the DEX test in advance. A separate invoice must be then be prepared for the actual delivery for the store to perform a receiver scan / detail check-in. In this case the store would be able to use the product from the actual delivery for the DEX test. Otherwise, the vendor or testing representative should please make sure to bring actual product for the store to scan for their portion of the DEX test or what many vendors will do is provide scan sheets with bar codes (which can be used only for TESTING purposes) for the store to scan for the CVS store side of the DEX.

All testing invoices will be deleted/reversed as they were used for testing purposes only. Successful DEX test invoices will be reviewed by CVS Accounts Payable to ensure there are not any issues. After the DEX test is submitted, DEX certification approval and maintenance to update the vendor receiving type to DEX can take 1-2 weeks.
